

FREE SCHOOL GARDEN WORKSHOP!

The Resource Conservation District of Greater San Diego County is offering a series of free workshops for garden educators—teachers, parents, garden coordinators, and community volunteers. Each workshop will focus on a different garden topic and there will be time for networking and sharing your experiences too. We hope you can join us!

Composting at School: brown is the new gold!

Date and time: June 30, 2-4pm

Location: Parkview Elementary School,
575 Juniper Street, Chula Vista 91911

Composting helps to divert waste from landfill and creates a wonderful, free resource for your garden. But how do you set up a composting program at your school? How does it work and who can help?

At this workshop you'll learn:

- the basics of hot composting and vermicomposting (composting with worms).
- how two Chula Vista schools set up their compost programs to collect food scraps from the school cafeteria.
- about resources available to help make your school composting program succeed.

There will be snacks, door prizes, and time for networking too!

Please feel free to bring children, there will be activities available to entertain them if compost isn't their thing...though by the end of the workshop it might be!!

Registration: The workshop is free but registration is required. To sign up please contact the RCD on 619-562-0096 or email ann.baldridge@rcdsandiego.org.
